TELL THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

But the American People are Asking for the Cause.

HORROR OF MAINE'S DISASTER.

Pride of the American Navy Blown to Pieces—Thrilling Tales of the Survivors.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.
Havana, Feb. 16.—Captain Sigsbee says that as a result of the explosion last night a quarter of his crew of 600 men are dead. This is precisely the same estimate as that of Chief-of-Police Paglier. Captain Sigsbee says he is unable to state officially what caused the explosion until he has made an investigation among his officers.
"Tell the American people," he said, "that nearly all the officers are saved."

The ship is lying near the head of the bay. As a proof that it was not the magazine only that exploded is shown by the way in which the entire bow is blown away. The crew is in utter ignorance of the cause of the disaster. The force of the explosion was SOMETHING TERRIFIC.

Part of the marines were taken aboard the Alphonso the Twelfth which rendered efficient service in saving the lives of the American sailors. Others of the crew were picked up by a Ward liner. There was much excitement but no danger of riot or injury to the Americans.

ESTIMATE OF THE KILLED.

At ten o'clock this morning the number killed by the destruction of the Maine is estimated at 417. Only 33 survive out of 450 officers and crew.
The wounded are being taken on stretchers to the Casa de Socorro where the surgeons are in attendance.

TALE OF A SURVIVOR.

James Rowe, the ship's cook, one of the least injured says: "I turned into my hammock at eight o'clock and went to sleep. The next thing I knew I felt myself whirling in the air and turning over and over. I fell on deck choking with the dense smoke and crawling along the deck staggered to my feet. Feeling that the ship was sinking I jumped overboard and tried to swim away so, as not to be drawn under by the suction of the ship when she went down. A boat from the Spanish main of war picked me up.
The same boat picked up four others who were struggling in the water.
They were Daniel Cronin, landsman; Charles Berryman, boatswain; Albert John, seaman; a landsman named Bloomer.

SHOOK THE WHOLE CITY.

The explosion shook the whole city.
It is believed that the Maine will prove a total wreck. Windows in the houses of Havana were broken by the force of the explosion. Captain Sigsbee and General Lee advise a suspension of public opinion until a further report can be made.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Washington, Feb. 16.—The destruction of the Maine has caused one of the greatest sensations since the news of the civil war. The President will send a message to congress giving all the facts in his possession concerning the cause of the explosion. It is still uncertain whether the Maine was DESTROYED BY A TORPEDO or her own powder magazine. The public will be kept informed. The President, Secretary Long and Assistant Secretary Day have been in consultation and have declared the great importance of preventing hasty action by congress.

THE SHIP HAS SUNK.

A report of foul play was sent out over stock brokers wires this afternoon. A query was sent to the Charlotte Observer by this paper. The Observer answered that no report of foul play had been received from its Washington correspondent. Reports to it at four o'clock gave 250 killed and state that the Maine has sunk.

NOT AN ACCIDENT.

Brooklyn, Feb. 16.—Lieut. Purcell, the commander of the receiving ship Vermont says the Maine either struck some hidden or forgotten mine or torpedo; that she could not have blown up by her own magazine.

Lieut. Col. Spenger, commandant of the Maine, Says:
"It was no accident that destroyed the Maine. Such might be the case in the heat of action when the magazines are being used, but not while lying at anchor."

Sumner, acting commandant of the Navy yard said:
"It is impossible for the blowing up of the Maine to have been due to accident. The magazines were located amid ships and the explosion was forward."

FROM THE MORNING PAPERS.
Havana, Feb. 15.—At a quarter to 10 o'clock this evening a terrible explosion took place on board the United States cruiser Maine, in Havana harbor. Many are killed or wounded.
All the boats of the Spanish cruiser Alphonso XIII are assisting. As yet the cause of the explosion is not apparent. The wounded sailors of the Maine are unable to explain it. It is believed that the cruiser is totally destroyed.

The explosion shook the whole city.
The windows were broken in all the houses. The correspondent of the Associated Press says he has conversed with several of the wounded sailors, and understands from them that the explosion took place while they were asleep, so they could give no explanation of the cause.

The wildest consternation prevails in Havana. The wharves are crowded with thousands of people. It is believed that the explosion occurred in a small powder magazine.

At a quarter of 11 o'clock what remains of the Maine is still burning.
Captain Sigsbee and the other officers have been saved. It is estimated that over 100 of the crew were killed but it is impossible as yet to give exact details.

Admiral Manterola has ordered that boats of all kinds should go to the assistance of the Maine and her wounded. The Havana firemen are giving aid, tending carefully to the wounded as they are brought on shore. It is a terrible sight.

GAPT. SIGSBEE'S DISPATCH.

The secretary of the navy received the following dispatch from Capt. Sigsbee:

"The Maine was blown up in Havana harbor at 9:40 and destroyed.
Many were wounded and doubtless many were drowned. The wounded and others are on board the Spanish main of war and Ward Line steamer. Send light house tenders from Key West for crew and few pieces of equipment still above water. No one had other clothes than those upon him. Public opinion should be suspended till further report.
Officers believed to be saved. Jenkins and Merritt unaccounted for. Many Spanish officers, including representation from Gen. Blanco, are now with me and express sympathy.

(Signed) "Sigsbee."

Admiral Manterola believes that first explosion was of a grenade shell that was hurled over the navy yard.

The Maine is a battleship of the second class and was regarded as one of the best ships in the new navy. She was built at the Brooklyn navy yard and is 318 feet long, 57 feet broad, 21.6 mean draught and 6,882 tons displacement.
She carries four 10-inch and six 6-inch breech loading guns in her main battery and seven 6-pounder and eight 1-pounder rapid fire guns, and four Gatlings in her secondary battery and four Whitehead torpedoes.

Switchboard Coming.

Manager McAdoo of the telephone exchange has received a telegram announcing that the new switchboard being made to order for the exchange here will be shipped the first of next week. This is good news to Mr. Mc-Adoo and those who are waiting to get 'phones under the new arrangement.

Telegraph Wires Down.

The telegraph wires are down very badly today. The wire to Richmond by which The Telegram's news service is received is down and the dispatches had to be sent by another wire. The service was so belated that much of it had to be left out. Wires connecting the city with other points are in an equally bad condition. The stock market wire is down and no reports could be gotten.

THE LAUGHABLE MINSTRELS.

A Show That Should Cut of The Last Part of Itself.

A jolly crowd greeted the Gorton aggregation at the Academy last night and were kept in a roar during the first part of the show by the rather unusually good "gags" of the company. There were very few stale jokes, none that was dirty, and the burnt cork comedians were excellent.
The musical part of the show was catchy and was heartily appreciated.
The best part of it was the male quartette whose imitations were exceedingly clever. If the company had quit with the first part of the performance it had continued it through the evening the effect would have been much better. The last part was rather flat and tiresome and did not compare with the first. It was on an entirely lower level and though not objectionable was not funny. There were some rather clever acrobatics but cirruses wore out those feats years ago. It is a little surprising that the management should end with what is so palpably the worst part of the entertainment.

WINSTON NEWS BUDGET.

EXTENSIVE FOREST FIRES RA-ING IN FORSYTH.

Paying Respects to Marshall Mott.
A Secret Meeting that Was Not Secret—Other Matters.

Winston, N. C., Feb. 16.—Parties coming in from outside the northern limits of the city report quite a severe forest fire raging there yesterday and day before. It seems the fire started by burning off ground for plant beds.

J. "Rupheon" Henderson, Sheriff Call's "will be" revenue commissioner appointee, whatever that is, is reported to be at East Bend recuperating his health, which condition was probably incurred by his being permanently withdrawn from the republican state ticket last fall. The aforesaid Henderson is quoted as underlying in quite a number of "asperies" against Solicitor Mott anent his recent illness and against John Benbow, the candidate mentioned for solicitor of this district this fall.

Parties yesterday report the death of J. H. Moss at the home of his brother at Uniontown, N. J. Mr. Moss will be remembered as the engineer for a number of years on the road from this city to Greensboro and Wilkesboro.

A republican, "in good and regular standing," remarked last night that their meeting night before last, which was reported to have been draped in secrecy, appeared to him anything but secret; that it was held in the city hall and was characterized by the desire of everybody to speak at the same time.

The concert by the Salem band here last Friday night proved such a success that with a change of program, the same performers will give an entertainment again on the 18th in the Y. M. C.
A. auditorium.

The Wilkes bond case, after a number of postponements, comes up for hearing at 9 o'clock this morning.
Judge Avery, T. B. Finley, W. L.
Green and other lawyers of Wilkesboro are now here.

W. W. Barber passed through the city last evening en route for Washington.

Francis Robinette and H. A.
Burgess, of the United States department of agriculture, passed through the city today for the mountains of North Carolina on a zoological and mineralogical expedition.
They will be gone probably a month on this trip, they come out at Asheville and then to Old Mexico.

Location of Offices Changed.

The general offices of the Durham & Charlotte Railway Company have been moved from Glendon to Gulf.
All communications intended for the superintendent should be addressed to Forest Fires Raging.

Maxton, N. C., Feb. 15.—Heavy forest fires are raging in Robeson county. The trestle over the creek south of Lumber river on Yadin Valley burned, arresting southbound passenger trains. The fires have crossed the creek and are heading for Maxton.
The fire is in full view of the town and much anxiety is felt for the safety of the town and immediate farm houses. The wind is terrific.—News and Observer.

TENDERS OFF FOR CUBA

Erickson Sent With Dispatches for the Fleet.

SPANISH ACCOUNT OF THE AFFAIR

General Lee Cables the Explosion Was Well Forward but the Cause of It Still Unknown.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Key West, Feb. 16.—The lighthouse tender Mangrove sailed for Havana at 3 o'clock this morning, having aboard several doctors. The dispatch boat Fern also sailed for Havana.

The torpedo-boat Erickson left at midnight with dispatches for the American fleet. No details regarding the Maine disaster has been received here.

THE SPANISH VERSION.

Madrid, Feb. 16.—The first news received from Havana said that the explosion on board the American warship Maine was caused by fire; that the warship was enveloped in flames and afterward sank.

LEE'S ACCOUNT OF IT.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Consul General Lee cables that the explosion occurred well forward, under the men's quarters and consequently many of them are lost. It is believed that all the officers are saved, except Jenkins and Merritt, who are not accounted for. The cause of the explosion is still unknown.

Captain General Blanco and the army and navy of Spain rendered every assistance.

Captain Sigsbee and most of his officers are aboard the steamer City of Washington. Others are in Havana.

Oldest Twins in the World.

Sunday's World has pictures and a sketch of the life of Hugh and Hector McLean, of Hartnett county, the two oldest twins in the world. They were born Feb. 10th, 1810. They were in Raleigh some weeks ago and suffered no fatigue from their drive of twenty-eight miles. They have never married.—News and Observer.

The Messrs. McLean are remarkable men, indeed. Aside from the distinction of being the oldest twins in the world they are peculiarly eccentric.
This writer has seen them. They are old bachelors, live together and are seldom seen apart. They always dress alike and are wonderfully attached to each other. Several years ago they purchased tombstones and walnut caskets for themselves. These articles, to the average man a gruesome spectacle, are kept by them at their home in Hartnett county, ready to be used when the final summons comes.

No Pro-Zola Demonstration.

New Haven, Feb. 14.—No Yale demonstration on behalf of Zola was held tonight. It was planned, but Denn Wright of the academic department sent a peremptory order to the leaders not to leave the campus and the parade never started.

The anti-French agitation at Yale has aroused the Frenchmen of the city and about 50 of them marched out tonight in the hopes of meeting the Yale delegation, but the two factions did not come together. A pro-Zola oration may be delivered on the Yale campus later this week.

Robbing Russia.

London, Feb. 15.—A special dispatch to the Daily News from Odessa says that a Jewish merchant of that city and several naval officers at Sebastopol, including the senior Admiral, have been arrested for frauds extending over a number of years in connection with the purchase of coal for the use of the navy.

The Admiralty has paid for more than 50,000 tons of coal that was never delivered.

There is some apprehension that young Mr. Leiter's legerdemain with the bread supply will not be as comparatively harmless and amusing as young Mr. Vanderbilt's cake walk.— Washington Star.

Notice.

It is urgent that State and county taxes be paid at once. The money is needed to meet current expenses and state taxes. Will advertise land for taxes soon. Fair warning to all.
Very Respectfully,
J. A. HOSKINS, Sheriff.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C., Feb. 16, '98.

Prof. Eben Alexander, of the University, late U. S. minister to Greece, will lecture on Modern Greece in the Presbyterian church next Thursday night. Everybody welcome.

Lawyer W. P. Ragan returned to Greensboro today.

Eugene Foucht, of Winston, passed through the city yesterday enroute to Thomasville.

A. C. Dodamead went to Lexington today in the interest of the High Point Provision Co.

Miss Bessie Steed, of Oxford, a very charming young lady is visiting in the city.

Arthur L. Butt's performance last night in the opera house that was well attended. He went down to Randleman today to make preparations to show tomorrow night. He will show here again tonight.

Two of Archdale's beautiful young ladies came up yesterday afternoon on their wheels.

Messrs. Frank Brown and Will Barbee attended Gorton's minstrel at Greensboro last night.

Nelson King, of Greensboro, is in the city today.

Joash Reynolds, of Springfield, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will be buried there this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Dr. J. W. Long and his trained nurse Miss Etta Dixie Kearns are in the city on professional business.

The High Point Minstrel has been postponed from Friday night February 18 until Friday night a week February 25.

W. F. Wall, of Edner, is spending the day in the city on business.

Unnecessary Fire Alarms.

The fire alarms turned in last night from boxes 12 and 13, were promptly responded to, as usual, but the fire was in an old field, a mile away from town, and a long distance from the nearest water plug, consequently nothing could possibly be gained by calling out the fire department with their apparatus. Chief Stone says nothing was burned except some old field, no property whatever was destroyed and the city was in no danger at all.

This being the case it was wholly unnecessary to turn in the alarm. It was a hardship on the firemen that ought to have been avoided. It was a useless running of the horses and needless wear and tear of wagons and apparatus. A little cool-headed investigation would save the horses a hard run and the firemen a lot of work and trouble of cleaning up and putting in shape the apparatus after a fruitless and foolish trip.

The firemen are an unselfish, brave and loyal set of men, as eager to save their neighbors' property as if it were their own. Even the horses voluntarily strain every muscle to get to the scene as quick as possible. Don't call them when there is no danger.

The alarm at 12:30 today was from box 23, and was only a chimney burning out at Mr. J. W. Pugh's on church street. The firemen quickly responded but they were not needed. We do not criticise the sending in of this alarm, as the wind was high and there is always more or less danger from burning soot in high winds.

Flax Karger at the State Normal.

The third entertainment of the Normal Course will be given on Monday night Feb. 21st, by the Karger Concert Company. From the endorsements of leading artists, and from the press reports, the indications are that the entertainment will rank with the best ever heard in this city.

The fourth entertainment of the course will be given by the two Literary Societies early in March.

On the 15th of March, President Andrews, of Brown University will give his famous lecture on Robert E. Lee.

One of the two remaining entertainments will be an impersonation of Dickens' David Copperfield, by Prof.
Barbour of Rutgers College, and the probabilities are that Mrs. S. T. Rorer will appear in the course, giving a lecture upon her specialty, the Science and Art of Cooking and General Household Economy.

Fire in Fayetteville.

It is reported here today that Fayetteville had a fire last night, but the extent of damage could not be learned, owing to the condition of the wires. It was stated, however, that the bucket factory of A. A. McKethan & Son was burned, and that sparks from the fire were scattered over the town by the high wind raging at the time.

Mr. C. M. Vanstory had his little girl's eyes examined in Baltimore last year and went with the prescription to one of the largest and best known optical houses there to have the glasses made up. FORTUNATELY one of the lenses got broken recently and was carried to the Greensboro Eye Specialist to be re-accorded with the prescription, and so changed them both. Mr. Vanstory sent the old lenses with an explanation to the oculist who had given the prescription and in reply received

"THE HONEST PLOW BOY."

There is a gubernatorial campaign coming on in Georgia and just now the papers are full of Allen D. Candler "the one-eyed plow boy of Pigeon Roost," as he is termed. Mr. Candler is doubtless a very excellent man, but is not any better for having only one eye or for being a plow boy instead of a grocer's boy or just a boy.

Among the many stale and moth-eaten customs prevalent in this land of the free and home of the brave, there is none more wearisome than the constant reference to the farmer as the "honest son of the soil."

It is a habit of the politician and has been persisted in, though begun in hypocrisy, until the farmer has come to regard himself as the only man who makes an honest living. He really believes that he is all that the office-seeker paints him.

As a matter of fact the man who makes his living by tilling the soil is no better than his fellow citizen who welds iron, builds houses, sells goods, writes wills and deeds or fills a pulpit. The one calling is quite as honorable as the other, and in any of them the percentage of honorable men is quite as high as among farmers. This, too, in spite of the fact that farming offers fewer temptations than many other callings.

It is only natural that the farmer who has been led to believe that he is more honest than other folks should expect other folks to try to rob or cheat him. He comes to regard men in other callings as his natural enemies. He believes that his interests and theirs are inimical.

The one virtue of the "plow boy" formerly was his conservatism. He was a useful balance wheel. But he has quite forsaken that virtue. He has become the most rabid and violent of "reformers." He is ready for anything that will injure those whom blatant demagogues have convinced him have a right to exist only by his sufferance. He has become a danger and a menace in the body politic.

A man's qualifications, not his calling, should determine his fitness for office; a plow boy, if his services and abilities entitle him to the distinction of being governor; if not then a lawyer, a doctor, anybody who has wisdom and courage and honor.

Way with the sentimental and hypocritical rot about the "honest farmer." The honest and sensible citizen is the man of the future, farmer or what not.

As genius invented the steam engine and genius has kept on improving the same, so it is with government and we do not know to what of improvement it may attain unto as yet, for up to date government has been used by the ruling elements for their own selfish ends to a great degree. A correspondent of the Progressive Farmer.

Who shall say after this that the populist is not a born ruler? Peer in to the clear limpidity of that sentence. See the crystallized statesmanship of it. To what improvement may we not attain unto as yet when such far-seeing eyes grasp the helm of the ship of state and such firm hands peer through the fog and dust kicked up by the hoofs (cloven preferably) of feeling monopolies?

Mr. Pearson's oratory is of the graceful, pleasing, Southern style, well calculated to catch a Northern audience. —Charlotte Observer.

"To catch a northern audience," sayest thou? Mr. Pearson's oratory catches everybody. It is more catchy than smallpox or a trap fish-hook. It is no respecter of persons or climate. Nor is it "graceful and pleasing" merely; it is fiery, impetuous, raging like one of the orator's, native mountain torrents or captured moonshiners. Mr. Pearson faces the batter and delivers his eloquence with an in-shoot.

The theorem that the Hannas usually get what they go after has received fresh demonstration in the marriage of the sister of Marcus A. at the tender and blushing age of 45 to a young man of 28.

The Zar of Russia may fancy he is a good many potatoes in a hill, but wait until he gets tangled up in a rough and tumble commercial transaction with Mr. Andrew Carnegie.

If the Honorable William Jennings Bryan is a wise man he will fight shy of conferences where Mr. Marion Butler and men of his political ilk are the chief conferees.

Ex-President Harrison's rush at the newspapers to deny that he is a candidate for the nomination in 1900 was somewhat superfluous.

We can bear it even if Senor Enrique Dupuy DeLoime did say good bye instead of au revoir.

We have all heard before of marching up the hill and then marching down again.

What It Means.

When we advertise that we will guarantee Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, or Dr. King's New Life Pills, it means that we are authorized by the proprietors to sell these remedies on a positive guarantee, that if purchaser is not satisfied with results, we will refund the purchase price. These medicines have been sold on this guarantee for many years and there should be no more conclusive evidence of their great merit. Ask about them and give them a trial. Sold at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Are You

Always Tired?

WINDSOR, N. C., May 24, '97.

Five years ago I was completely run down from general debility. My liver didn't act, I had indigestion, was just as nervous as I could be, and was always tired. The least exertion would bring on shortness of breath and it was a drag to me to keep up. A friend of mine who had been cured by using Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy told me to take it. I bought a dozen bottles and took it just because I knew I would have to try something. I suffered greatly from wakefulness, would lay awake often the greater part of the night, unable to rest or sleep. When I was on the second bottle I got so I could sleep, and when I had finished the six bottles I WAS WELL. Indigestion cured, that shortness of breath cured, and I feel like another person. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy is a wonderful medicine. It did me more good than anything I ever took in my life.

"Mr. Joseph Jefferson has a poor memory," said E. H. Sothorn, "and one morning I rushed to his apartments to return a call he had shortly before made me. I found him with Mr. Henry Watterson in close confidence, regaling themselves with reflections on the laxity of the present generation in many things aside from payments and politics. Something brought to Watterson's mind a line in 'Rip Van Winkle,' but he could not recall the words. He squinted his game eye at Joe, and Joe covered his own game ear and said: 'Eh?' to the three-cornered Wattersonian glance. Then he tried to remember the line. He stumbled hopelessly and then said: 'Oh, I don't know what it is.' 'What do you mean by 'don't know it?' Haven't you been playing it eighty years?' shouted Watterson. 'Oh, well, I play the piece, but I don't know it,' said Jefferson in his soft, musical voice, with its odd little snarl at the periods."—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

CLOTHING, HATS AND FURNISHINGS.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

T. B. Wimbish, of Raleigh, was at the McAdoo last night.

Read the new ad of the Southern Stock Mutual in this issue.

Joe Rosenbacher, of Winston, was in the city today going north.

J. L. Gelshehen, of Raleigh, was registered at the McAdoo last night.

The street sprinkler is a good thing as far as it goes; but it doesn't go far enough.

E. F. Young, of Raleigh, was in the city last night, stopping at the McAdoo.

We call the attention of those interested in bicycles to Wingate Bros.' ad in this paper.

Rev. Sam T. Barber, of Pleasant Garden, was in the city today and went to Reidsville.

John A. Hodgins is enclosing his residence on South Elm street with a neat picket fence.

The season for birds and oysters will soon be over, says Grady, the Central Cafe man.

A. F. Pfohl, of Salem, along with lots of other people, was registered at the McAdoo last night.

J. L. York went down to Glendon today to purchase raw material for the Southern Varnish Company.

Cunningham Bros. tell you in their ad today how to brighten up and make cheerful your disused fire places.

Mrs. B. Z. Stamey returned to Pilot Mountain today after an extended visit to her son, Dr. E. L. Stamey, on South Elm street.

John B. Fariss, successor to Richardson & Fariss, makes an announcement worthy of your attention in his advertisement today.

Bicycles today can be run on hard ground where yesterday they were run in loose sand. The wind has swept the streets and roads in some places of all loose dirt.

Mrs. Lee Turrentine, of Burlington, and her sister Miss Mollie Pairo, of Danville, were here today going to the latter place. Miss Pairo has been visiting her sister in Burlington.

Mrs. J. A. Leonard, of this city, went to High Point this morning to attend the funeral this afternoon of her father Mr. Joash Reynolds, at Springfield church, near High Point. Mr. Reynolds died yesterday at the ripe old age of 83 years.

A full length portrait of the late Maj. S. M. Finger, made by Randall for the State Normal and Industrial College at this place, is now on exhibition in a show window of Watson's art store in Raleigh. It is said to be a very fine likeness.

Echoes of the Storm.

The terrific wind of last night did considerable damage in various parts of the town and surrounding country. Fences were blown down, the roads blocked in some places and the telephone wires crossed. All the morning linemen were out uncrossing wires and getting the system in working order. The line to Reidsville was down this morning and that burg could not be called up. Cunningham Brothers came near having an office too warm for coal dealers even. The chimney in the restaurant adjoining caught fire in the gale and the Eagle Hose Company came up but the fire had been extinguished with buckets.

Shipping Goose Grease Liniment.
The manager of the Goose Grease Liniment reports that he yesterday shipped six gross of that remedy to parties outside of the city and delivered two gross in the city. This shows a most encouraging growth of the company's business.

Notes of The Prowler

One of our young business men ran down to High Point a day or so ago to act as a commercial tourist. Because either the young man or his watch was too slow he did not accompany the train which reaches here at 9:52 p. m. The train thoughtlessly went off without him. The young man was compelled to be here early on the following morning and as there were no more trains he started via the "ankle express." As far as Jamestown he was cheered by thoughts of how his fine, large appetite would chime in with a warm supper. He had never been in Jamestown before. He was not acquainted with the hours and dogs of that village. He knows both intimately now. When he reached Jamestown the people had already retired; the dogs had not. He walked up to a house and raised a rat-tat-tat with much of hungry inspiration in it. His was not the only appetite on the grounds. From the rear of the house came one accompanied by a large bull pup. The scenes that were enacted for some distance up the road thereafter only the dog and young man know, though the tailor might guess. He arrived here just as the chickens were waking.

There has been an epidemic of kodaks around town lately. Every body is taking or being "took." This is said to be an unusually egotistic age and the camera hits this egotism right in the bull's eye. It requires much patience and hard labor to learn to be photographed. Being presented at court comes easy to the man or woman who can face the business end of a kodak or camera with serene unconcern.

A proud father, seized with the picture taking mania, borrowed a kodak and went home to photograph his family. He blandly waved aside the proffered explanations of the owner as to how the kodak "worked" and assured him that he was Alderman's confidential adviser. He went home, arranged his family in a group, loaded the kodak, took out the screen and then carefully replaced it in front of the sensitive plates and pulled the trigger. He kept this up until the wife of his bosom refused to pose longer and the children were all hungry. He brought his plates down town to have the pictures developed and learned from the photographer that pictures can not be taken through an opaque screen. He did not report the matter himself.

A grizzled old captain was telling a rather amusing incident of the late war recently. Bill and Tom were two comrades in arms. Bill was a great, hulking fellow, over six in his stocking feet, while Tom was small. In a certain warm skirmish Tom was pinked in the leg by a musket ball and fell in front of the enemy, calling out as he fell, "Bill, for the Lord's sake don't leave me here." Bill promptly went to the assistance of his comrade, picked him up and throwing him across his back, scooted after his retreating company. The yankees, hardly fifty yards away, began firing over the heads of the pair to see the runner mend his pace. "Bill," said Tom, "Can't you take me in your arms? Your back is an awful dangerous place." "No, confound you," replied Bill. "If I have to carry you I'll make some use of you." And he continued his retreat to the tune of pattering bullets. To this day the comrades cannot meet without laughing.

Red Letter Sale

Dress Goods and Silks

at BROWN'S

(Cox-Ferree Dry Goods Co.'s old stand.)

February 16 to March 1.

Cox-Ferree Dry Goods Co. had the largest stock of dress goods in the city. To this has been added the stock carried by Sample Brown Mercantile Co. The combined stocks is entirely too large for any one store to carry. In order to materially reduce this stock, we will begin on Wednesday, Feb. 16th, and continue till March 1st, what we will term our

Red Letter Sale.

All Woolen Dress Goods and Silks will be marked in plain large Red Figures and the price will be so much lower than their real value that you will see at once that you cannot afford to leave without buying. This will be the biggest slaughter of prices ever attempted in this city.
